"Career Building as a Japan Graduate"

by JUGAS

Japanese University Graduate Association Singapore

JUGAS is an Alumni of non-Japanese citizens residing in the Republic of Singapore who has completed their tertiary education in Japan. We often organise activities to promote and enhance the public understanding of Japanese culture and language. We maintain a close relationship with the other Japanese Graduates' Associations in the ASEAN countries through ASCOJA (ASEAN Council of Japan Alumni) and its counterpart ASJA (Asia Japan Alumni) International in Japan. JUGAS helps organise re-union trips and students exchange programs to Japan, and help administer a few scholarship programs including ASCOJA-MEXT Scholarship for Post Graduate and Undergraduate Studies.

Okayama University, as one of the top national universities in Japan, has been appointed to implement the "Study in Japan Global Network Project in ASEAN" by MEXT. We disseminate useful information about universities, scholarships etc.

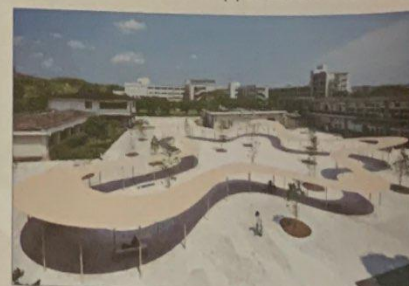

Okayama University has been appointed to implement the "Study in Japan Global Network Project in ASEAN" by the Japanese Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology (MEXT) since 2019. We promote Study in Japan by 1) providing useful information about studying in Japan, universities, and scholarships through SNS and our events, 2) offering FREE consultation by professional study in Japan coordinators, and 3) holding variety of seminars and fairs (including mock-lectures, information on career in Japan, and students experience talks) to Singapore and ASEAN students.

- Okayama University is a comprehensive university, which has 10 faculties, 1 international program, and 8 graduate schools. Okayama University has a 4-year bachelor's program called "Discovery Program for Global Learners (GDP)" that can be completed entirely in English.
- GDP accepts 60 applicants per year (around 30 from Japan, 30 from overseas) to embrace diversity.
- GDP is an interdisciplinary program that students can study a wide range of disciplines in social sciences, humanities, and natural sciences.
- Students with advanced Japanese proficiency also has an option to take courses in Japanese in other faculties at Okayama University.
- Students develop a personalized study plan that combines courses from different disciplines and fits their individual academic interests and future goals.
- The application for intake April and October 2023 will start on 1st October 2022.

Japan has beautiful four seasons, and you can enjoy each season in term of food, sightseeing, history, culture, etc. Okayama, which has a perfect mixture of urban and nature sites, is located between Hiroshima and Kobe with easy access from Tokyo or Osaka. You will find convenient transportation of bus, train, taxi, or bicycle between the university and Okayama Shinkansen bullet train station. You can appreciate the delicacy such as peach and grape thanks to the moderate climate called "the Land of Sunshine". Students can live comfortably, and tuition and living costs are much affordable in Japan, especially in the regional cities like Okayama compared to western countries.

Since its founding in 1897, Kyoto University has been dedicated to furthering higher education and fostering an atmosphere of free academic exchange in the historic city of Kyoto, a center of traditional Japanese culture.

Kyoto University is comprised of 10 faculties, 18 graduate schools, 13 research institutes, 23 educational institutes and other establishments. Approximately 2,700 of the university's 23,000 students hail from overseas. With students from approximately 120 different countries and regions, the university's campuses boast a rich cultural diversity. Kyoto iUP (Kyoto University International Undergraduate Program) is a 4.5-year international scholarship program comprising a six-month preparatory course followed by four years of undergraduate study. A key feature of the program is that no Japanese language proficiency is required at the outset, as the program provides an intensive Japanese language component. Admission and tuition fees are exempted, and students receive a monthly scholarship of up to JPY 120,000 for the 4.5 years of the program. Upon graduation, they are awarded a bachelor's degree in their selected major.

Located in western Japan, Ritsumeikan has campuses in Kyoto, Osaka, and Shiga, three regions that are close, yet distinct. Kyoto is the ancient capital of Japan, with 13 world heritage sites within 10 km of the Kinugasa Campus. Kyoto is known as a student city, with 10 percent of the population identifying as students. Osaka is western Japan's largest city and the center for business for the region. Situated 20 minutes by train from both Kyoto and Osaka city centers, students at the Osaka Ibaraki Campus have excellent access to both the traditional charms of Kyoto, and the vibrant metropolis of Osaka. A short train ride over is Shiga, home to the largest lake in Japan, Lake Biwa. Shiga is known for its beautiful, dynamic nature and for being a hub for world-famous Japanese companies' operations. Students at the Biwako-Kusatsu Campus in Shiga enjoy the expansive environment and participate in world-class research.

Since its founding in 1953, the university has been practicing liberal arts in Japanese-English bilingual education. At ICU, "dialogue" is the heart of learning and many classes are held in a group-work/discussion-based, instead of a lecture-based. Students can decide their major after discovering what they truly want to study among a diverse range of academic field of humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences. Today, students from 50 countries are studying at ICU. There's an environment where unique students can learn beyond national borders and cultural differences.

Admission Policy

ICU seeks students from Japan and the world possessing the following qualities:

- Intellectual curiosity and creativity that transcend disciplinary boundaries
- Sound judgment based on powers of logical, critical thinking
- Global communication skills necessary for dialogue with people from diverse cultural and linguistic backgrounds
- Self-motivated individuals who identify, solve, and engage real world problems

Application Information

Those who apply to ICU in English undergo a documentary screening process. Admission decisions are made holistically and are based on a number of factors, including academic transcripts, standardized test scores, application essays, and letters of recommendation.

We also have EJU based admissions where applicants undergo a documentary screening and an interview in Japanese and English.

International Undergraduate Program in Science (IUPS), to foster advanced expertise in science and understanding of Japanese language and culture

Osaka University, founded in 1931, is one of the largest national universities in Japan with approximately 7,000 faculty members and 23,000 students (including 2,600 international students). Osaka University conducts world-class research under the objective of "Live Locally, Grow Globally," and its mission is to nurture outstanding individuals who possess a high sense of ethics and wish to become global citizens and leaders in a variety of fields worldwide.

The School of Science offers the International Undergraduate Program in Science (IUPS), which accepts students in the Departments of Mathematics, Physics, and Chemistry. The most distinctive feature of this program is the transition, during the second year, from attending major classes in English to attending major classes in Japanese, so that, in the later years of the program, Japanese and international students study and conduct cutting-edge scientific research together in an international environment.
